TARTS AND ENVER BEY REDUCE TRACK RECORDS AT HAVRE DE GRACE.

Former, One of Two Winners During Day, in Colors of J. O. Talbott, Runs Three-Quarters in 1:11% and Wins by a Nose.

Havre de Grace, Md., April 24.—The western owner J. O. Talbott accounted for the two claim races at Havre de Grace this afternoon when Palaquin, a good sprinter in the five-furlongs handicap, and Ten Points, the fastest Selling Stakes Tarts, showed a splendid performance in winning her race. She left the barrier well in her stride, set a terrific pace and beat Sherwood a nose. The official time for the three-quarters was 1:11%, the time for the quarter and half being :23 and :46%. This reduced the track record by two-fifths of a second. Another new record was set when Ten Points, Beyondu's fifth race, a dash of four and a half furlongs, gave Bey's time of :54, which was three-fifths of a second faster than the previous record for the distance.

The card was one of the best yet offered by Secretary Fred Rehberger. Well balanced fields went to the post and keen contests resulted. In a couple of the races the finishes were close enough to leave the winner in doubt until the official placing was displayed.

Wayne Joplin and his friends put over a good thing in Free Trade, which duplicated his easy victory at Norfolk.

William Snyder, one of starter A. B. Dade's assistants, arrived at Pimlico a few days ago and erected one of the starting gates to school the two two-year-olds.

Joseph McLean was among the arrivals here this afternoon. He came here in the interest of the stakes offered by the Boston racing association of Canada. A number of horsemen who purpose racing their stables in the New York tracks have already made known their intention of entering freely for the stakes offered by the Ontario Jockey Club at Woodbine.

J. W. Burtschell shipped here from Pimlico this morning a quartet of his horses, Troy Weight, Maltine and Spellbound, which will remain at Havre de Grace during the remainder of the meeting.

The Sir Hercules horse Chester Krum, which went wrong at Norfolk, is reported to be rounding to again and his trainer thinks that he will be able to get him to the post again.

A. L. Aste has decided to ship his stable from here to Kentucky. He wired this morning for nine stalls at Douglas Park. Ten Point, his Kentucky Derby eligible, will remain at the stud, while Mr. Aste will go to Louisville. The Stud Show, Eyelet horse, Eyebrow, which went wrong this spring, will be at once retired to the stud. He will be shipped to J. S. Barbee in Kentucky at the conclusion of the Havre de Grace meeting.

After Ten Point's impressive performance of yesterday, a pool of $600 was made up among several horsemen here and sent to Louisville to be wagered on Ten Point in the future book being made on the Kentucky Derby. The commission cut the horse's odds from 6 to 1 to 4 to 1.

William Manly, president of the Maryland Jockey Club, and Samuel Ross, of Washington, were among the visitors here this afternoon. Both Mr. Manly and Mr. Ross will race several jumpers this season.

Troy Weight—Five-eighths in 1:03. Is good.

NEW YORK TRACKS LICENSED.

Albany, N. Y., April 24.—The State Racing Commission has filed with the Secretary of State a copy of licenses issued to hold race meetings, conduct running races and steeplechases, to the following racing associations:

Meadow Brook Steeplechase Association, Belmont Park Terminal, April 30 and May 3.

Westchester Racing Association, May 30 to July 5.

Saratoga Association for the Improvement of the Breed of Horses, Saratoga Springs, August 1 to 30.

Metropolitan Jockey Club, Jamaica, July 1 to 31.

Piping Rock Racing Association, Locust Valley, June 5, 7 and 9.

The licensees are signed by J. W. Wadsworth, John Sanford, H. K. Knapp, members of the State Racing Commission.

MOVE TO BRING RACERS FROM ABROAD.

Wealthy Easterner Commissions Agents to Make Purchases in England and France to Meet Shortage.

New York, April 21.—That man who could walk about unfeeling, oblivious of all that is at Belmont Park without feeling a thrill at its most possibilities, as the aroma of the high-mettled racer, must be lead to ordinary emotions. I am a somewhat frequent visitor, as my home is about half an hour's ride by trolley from the great race course, and, on any fine day, now that the clowns are gathering there, drop in informally upon the trainers who have already reached there, or who wintered there. Though we in the last few days have experienced some remarkable racing in the winter, the racing Sunday, for instance, being almost as cold as any day of December, though without snow or rain, today (Monday) was almost ideal, and I took the opportunity to look through the stable now occupied by Mr. John Sanford's horses. They are under the care of William Albright, who succeeded R. J. Hymer, the man who made his mark by his success in training Dick Welles.

In fact, it was Hymer's excellent work with this horse that secured him the position with General Sanford. This is what Mr. John Sanford told me. About seven years ago I first met Albright at the tracks hereabout. He was a quiet undemonstrative man who had trained horses in the west and had sought and obtained employment with three evening papers as a "clocker." When racing was at its height here, "clocking" reports were regular features of most of the evening papers. At that time war was made on the clockers by a mistaken few in Jockey Club, which, but it was quickly pointed out that honest clockers were of service to the public through the press and the attempted embargo died a natural death.

Or, the numerous men who earned honorable livelihood by furnishing clocking reports for publication and for use of patrons. Albright caught my attention as one of absolute reliability and, when I saw him in daily consultation with Mr. John Sanford at Saratoga in 1907, or thereabouts, I made up my mind that he deserved an ordinary track expert's engagement to train the Hurricane horses. He was therefore no great surprise. He did well with them in his first year of service and was about to do better when along came the anti-racing laws and then the famous colors were not seen again. The two-year-olds were sold each season. General Sanford died last winter and now comes a radical change in the management of the horses. They will be raced at Belmont Park and will be given a general racing form at that meeting than many would suppose, bearing in mind that in former years they were high in flesh even in August, when they first came out each season.

The present lot of Sanford horses contains some first-class material, and with ordinary luck, they will win a fair share of races at Belmont Park, Jamaica and Saratoga. A young man named Hollie L. Smith is Albright's chief assistant and is well capable of holding his own position. He was polite and well-informed and the fall out of local pride in any and every horse bred at Amsterdam. Mr. Albright was not at hand when I called.

Yon has been on two occasions published lists of the two-year-olds in Mr. Sanford's string, but there are in addition five racers three years or older, making in all twenty-one now at Belmont Park. The older ones are:

Albion, b. f. 3, by Isidor—Araniza.

Bally Cliff, ch. f. 4, by Clifford—Ballyroe.

Cooper, ch. f. 4, by Caughnawaga—Attribution.

Isarote, b. f. 4, by Isidor—Rock Rose.

La Cliff, b. f. 3, by Clifford—La Tosca II.

Of the two-year-olds, I was much struck with Sir William Johnson, a chestnut brother to Sir John Johnson, that fast weight-carrying stout campaigner owned by Frank Nolan. This two-year-old's temper is perfect, a great contrast to that of his famous brother. If he is as good a racer, Mr. Sanford will be satisfied. The bay colt Mon Cliff, by Clifford and Sprenger, is a racy-like youngster and seems eager for the sport to begin to display his speed. Those who recall the famous Caughnawaga (now dead and his grave marked with a tombstone), will easily see in Waga Hill his worthy son. The colt is brother to Caugh Hill, which bought for a small sum of money in 1911 by Archie Zimmer for Senator "Tim" Sullivan, has won his owner a fortune in purses and wagers. He won so many races in consecutive order that his admirers must have been surprised. Another sturdy chestnut is by Caughnawaga, Irish Girl II, a heavy bloodline brown or black colt by Rockton out of Perth, hence a half-brother to Perthsire, is certain to attract attention. He is speedy looking and shapes up like a good one. A good colt seems to be Song of Valley, by Isidor—Queen of Song, and others are Brunley, by Isidor—Adriutha; Captain Burns, by Rockton—Ravenous; Cliff Field, by Clifford—Richie.

The horses now at the Hurricane Stud, about forty mares and the following stallions: Mohawk II, Clifford, Isidor, Chuctanunda and Rockton. Potomac is there, too, but he is not being used as a stallion. The mares go to the second remove to some of the greatest in the Stud Book. Perth is out of a Balding mare; One I Love is by Minting—The Appleby, by Hermit, and was a good young filly in 1895; Burtt Hill is a half-sister to Caugh Hill and is out of the fine Individual, a half-sister to Bald Strome mare once owned and raced by J. W. Colt; G. G. Hill II is a half-sister to Irish Lad, which is proving to be a great sire in France; La Tosca II is out of the original La Tosca, that magnificent mare which, as a youngster, was raced three days in succession and won. This La Tosca became the dam of La Tosca II, which in turn has thrown a daughter, Valleda II, in 1911. It may become confusing in the course of time to keep mental records of the three La Toscas.

Young Hughes was asked if he considered Amsterdam a good place at which to breed thoroughbreds. "I should say it was," he quickly answered, with local pride; "the year Caughnawaga won the Saratoga Handicap and the Cup we also had Mohawk II, which certainly was the best two-year-old at that meeting and would have won the Futurity if he hadn't gone lame; and we also had Molie Brant, one of the best little fillies I ever saw, and she won the Futurity. So here were three in one year from one stock farm. Some people think they would be lucky to have three stallions in twenty years." The year Hughes had in mind was 1905. It was one of the seasons when speculation raged violently, when John W. Gates was wagering heavily, when his negro messenger, that remarkably honest fellow known as "The Senator," was entrusted with enormous commissions, and when the Spur was at the peak of its popularity. Caughnawaga ran a remarkable race at the Handicap, because "Tomy" Burns let him out on the outside all the way, but the cunning Tommy knew that the going out there was firmer than in the center, where Baldame ran. That other horse, Ort Wells, ran below his form in the Handicap because of the heavy track.

In this stable is Dickson, the steeplechaser, owned by Leland Elkins. The horse was well up on the winning list last fall, and will show improvement this season. Another in the stable is Iron Head, winner of the Provincial Nursery Stakes last fall. This colt is an eligible for the King's Plate race next fall, and will be given racing education this summer in events for province-bred horses. There are also a number of two-year-olds in this string that have done remarkably well during the winter months.

Governors of New York Racing to See to It That Betting Law Is Obeyed.

The New York State, discussing the matter of speculation in connection with the coming revival of racing on the New York tracks, says:

"Ever since it was announced that racing under the Jockey Club's supervision would be resumed at Belmont Park on Decoration Day, the big men of the turf have been considering carefully the problem of betting which has been pronounced legal by the Scudder decision in the Paul Shane case, subsequently affirmed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, now pending before the Court of Appeals.

"Although speculation between individuals is not a violation of the anti-bookmaking law and it is within a bettor's rights to record his own wager, it was learned that when Belmont Park opens, the lid on 'betting' will be tightly clamped down. It will be the aim of the turf governors to have the track policies in such a way that any attempt to revive professional gambling by known bookmakers will be quickly suppressed.

"Persons who are under the impression that they will find the usual line of professional pacesetters either on the lawn or in the old betting ring are doomed to disappointment. Unless a race track patron can find somebody he knows it will be impossible for him to make a bet. Whatever speculation goes on will be of an oral nature, for cash wagers will be strictly prohibited.

"When Speculator, a colt released by Justice Scudder in the Supreme Court for the public's benefit, was sold to a bookmaker, he was laid down. On the strength of the fact that the sale was not a violation of the law prohibiting bookmaking with or without writing, also that in accordance with the ruling of the Court of Appeals in the Lambrix case it was not a crime to make a bet with a layer and record it, the turf governors would be compelled to record wagers from the public as a business, which would be illegal.

"In his argument for the release of Shane, which was submitted, Protagore Graham showed that the law was not violated by Justice Scudder in his action to restrain the bookmaker from racing under the name of the turf governors, but that the bookmaker was guilty of a violation of the law prohibiting bookmaking with or without writing, also that in accordance with the ruling of the Court of Appeals in the Lambrix case it was not a crime to make a bet with a layer and record it, the turf governors would be compelled to record wagers from the public as a business, which would be illegal.

HINATA RACING HELPFUL TO THE TURF.

Private Meeting at Mrs. La Bus' Country Place in Kentucky Signally Successful.

Lexington, Ky., April 24.—Mrs. Clarence LeBast's racing party at Hinata Farm this afternoon was an unqualified success. It was quite the biggest social event of the season in the blue grass region and the day attracted to the popularity of the sport of racing. The five hundred guests journeyed in automobiles and carriages to the pretty farm and all were in time for the luncheon of burgoo barbecued meats and salads which was served under a big tent on the lawn from 1:30 until 2:30. The racing began at 3 o'clock and was continued until 6 o'clock, J. O. Keene, trainer, and Bryan Steele, jockey, won two of the cups with horses from the stable of Johnson N. Gamble, who was in New York. Governor James B. McCreary, Gen. John B. Castleman, and Thomas C. McTowell were the judges. Will H. Shelley acted as clerk of the scales. Louis Haggan as clerk of the course, John E. Madden as timer, Frederick Kimble as padlock judge, Charles H. Berryman, Desha Breckinridge, Christie Churchill, and Gen. Roger D. Williams as stewards, and Harry Morrissey as starter. There were four starters in each race. The finishes were close. The results:

First Race—1 1/2 Miles. Two-year-olds.
1. J. N. Madden's Hinata, 112; T. Steele 1
2. J. N. Madden's Hinata, 112; B. Steele 2
3. J. E. Madden's Hinata, 112; Brad 3
4. T. P. Hayes' Holton, 115; Taylor 4
Time, .50.

Second Race—About 7-8 Mile. 3-year-olds and upward.

J. N. Madden's Barsac, 107; B. Steele 1
J. C. Gallaher's Rash, 122; T. Steele 2
James P. Ross' Uncle Hart, 110; Zuber 3
T. C. McDowell's George Stoll, 107; J. Glass 4
Time, 1:26.

Third Race—About 5 1/2 Furlongs. 3-year-olds and upward.

J. N. Madden's Lodiola, 102; B. Steele 1
J. C. Gallaher's Rash, 122; T. Steele 2
W. Grater's Ethelde, 121; T. Steele 3
T. P. Hayes' Ravel, 107; W. W. Taylor 4
Time, 1:053.

Shelby Harbinson, Jr., of this city, won the polo pony race and he also won the egg and spoon race. The guests danced to band music between races and they are dancing tonight in the Country Club.

ONTARIO JOCKEY CLUB'S STAKES OPEN.

Among the various Canadian racing organizations the Ontario Jockey Club is easily the leader. Various lines of policy conduce to this enviable standing, not the least of which is its sagacious liberality in the matter of giving money to be used for the promotion of the sport. The officials of the club long ago perceived the important truth that the more money a racing body gives in stakes and purses the more it receives back from public patronage. Montreal has a greater population than Toronto and should be Canada's chief racing point, but there is simply no comparison between the expenditures and receipts of the Ontario Jockey Club and the Montreal Jockey Club, the difference being largely on the much greater attractiveness and variety of the stake offerings of the Ontario Jockey Club.

Several stake races have already been closed by the Ontario Jockey Club and it now comes to the front with an additional offering of eleven stakes races to be run at its May meeting and which close for entries at midnight of Monday, May 5. All have a liberal provision of added money and the list is as follows:

For Three-Year-Olds and Over.

Toronto Cup, $5,000 added; 1 1/8 miles.
Comanchie Cup, Canadian owners, $2,000 added; 1 1/4 miles.

King Edward Hotel Gold Cup, $1,500 added; 1 1/4 miles.

William Hendrie Memorial Handicap, $1,500 added; 1 mile.

Minto Stakes, $1,000 added; 1 1/4 miles.

Prince of Wales Handicap, $1,000 added; 3 1/4 miles.

For Three-Year-Olds.

Woodstock Plate, $2,000 added; 1 1/8 miles.

For Two-Year-Olds.

Victoria Stakes, $2,000 added; 5 1/2 miles.

Coronation Stakes, Canadian-bred, $2,000 added; 4 1/2 furlongs.

Jumping Races.

Woodbine Steeplechase, $1,500 added; about 2 1/2 miles.

Street Railway Steeplechase, $1,500 added; about 2 1/2 miles.

The Ontario Jockey Club is undoubtedly an exceedingly prosperous organization. It deserves to be. Its racing is carried on in the best methods of the sport with strict discipline and absolute fairness. For its record of success, beginning May 24, and closing May 31, it will give $53,000 in added money to stakes and purses. It is no wonder turfmen like to race their horses at Toronto. The conditions of the stakes now open for entries are published elsewhere in this edition and are commended to the consideration of owners and trainers in general.

FAMOUS JUMPER GOES INTO RETIREMENT.

Word comes from the east that Jimmy Lane, which good jumper has been credited—rightfully or wrongfully, Daily Racing Form is not in a position to decide—with having won more steeplechase races during his long and honorable career than any other jumper raised in this country, has finally been tire to the life of ease by his owner, Gwyn Tompkins, under whose handling this son of His Grace and Anna Page won thirty-six races during nine seasons of racing over the jumps.

Jimmy Lane was a twelve-year-old when he ran his last race in 1912. He began racing as a four-year-old in 1904 and in only one season did he fail to win. That was in 1909, when he was able to start only twice on account of physical inability. His earnings amount to the comfortable total of $22,365, which is remarkably good for a steeplechaser. While he was by no means the best jumper that this country has produced, he was a steady-going fellow and his record stands as a tribute to the ability of his skillful trainer and owner. It is as follows:

Jimmy Lane, ch. g. (1900), by His Grace—

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

M. G., Detroit, Mich. It was a losing parlay.

C. C. H., Toronto, Can. Palanquin was the favorite in the race won by Frederick L. April 19.

Baker, Buffalo, N. Y. The backer of a horse that chances to be in the field in mutuel betting wins if a field horse wins.

H. W. W., Detroit, Mich. In the case described the bet would have been a draw, unless there had been separate place and show betting.

MOVE TO BRING RACERS FROM ABROAD.

Beldame's 121 pounds, and outstayed her in the final drive, running the mile and a half in 2:05 1/4, which is not the record by nearly four seconds, but as the race was run on a "dead" track, and Beldame was ridden a waiting race in front, the pace in the first six furlongs was slow. Caughnawaga is justly a popular horse and, being the son of two such racers as Clifford and La Tosca, he is only making good as a sire his promise as a race horse. I don't say he was a brilliant horse, but his record shows that no horse could take liberties with him.

The payroll of the Hurricane Stud for the forty men and boys employed there is at least $500 a week, and yet I feel sure that John Sanford will go in for breeding and racing on a much larger scale than his father did. His near relative, Alexander Smith Cochran, who is, like himself, a multimillionaire, has been elected a member of the Jockey Club and to become the owner of a large stud. Another relative, Gifford A. Cochran, owns one of the subscription two-year-olds which are to take part in those sportsmanlike races at Piping Rock wherein the best colt or filly can win at least $16,000.

Speaking of the Piping Rock meeting, and this one in particular, of it, William Midgley has at Belmont Park a team of horses which are very good, and his care and every one of the men who own them is extremely wealthy, and nearly all are new men in racing. They include Clarence Mackay, John T. Pratt, Paul D. Cravath, W. R. Coe, Gifford A. Cochran, Mortimer L. Schiff, Ormond G. Smith (of the great publishing firm of Strode & Smith), Tyler Morse, John B. Dennis, W. A. Jamison, and Thomas F. Ryan. Though all the horses in Midgley's care were from the same stable, I am sure, I can't say after I have seen them, that I can't help realizing that when the two-year-olds which are engaged in the Piping Rock Subscription race, and which are now running at Havre de Grace, and which will also race at Pimlico, come here they will have a decided advantage over those kept at Belmont Park.

Another of the horses which have arrived at Belmont are three jumpers which Harry W. Smith hunted in Ireland all last winter. They are Nattie Bumppo, Dress Parade II, and Dull Care. They are under the care of "Dolph" Wheeler, a negro who has trained for Mr. Smith for thirteen years, and who at one time for a similar period trained for W. C. Dally, and at another time for the late Hugh C. Grant and Nathan Strauss when they were in partnership some years ago. Wheeler was with Mr. Smith all winter and declares that the Irish hunting men admitted that the three horses above named, as well as another American horse (Success, by Rainbow) were better hunters than the Irish-bred ones. It is Mr. Smith's intention to race the three horses at Piping Rock. Wheeler says it takes a good jumper and a sound horse to win the Grand National at Liverpool. He saw the race, and thinks Bourke Cochran or Good and Plenty could have won it.

So palpable is it that we are in dire need of good horses to supply the needs of Canada, Kentucky, and New York that at least one multimillionaire is about to send an agent to England and France to purchase horses in training there for use in America, and I don't know if this gentleman's name, but he is not new to racing in this country. If it became known that his agent is at work getting horses, either by private purchase or in open market, that fact would cause prices to double, and this is not necessary. Quiet work on the part of a discreet agent would soon get hold of half a hundred or more fit to do battle here the season after they land. Mr. McElroy, the man who took Farnsworth and Onida to England last summer, and won with them a short time after landing, evidently does not think it a hard job. I hear he is seeking more American two-year-olds to take back to England.

JOSEPH J. BURKE.

WINNER—B. g., by Peep o'Day—Smirr (trained by H. G. Bedwell).

Went to post at 2:42. At post 6 minutes. Start good and slow. Won easily; second and third driving.

SPOHN went to the front at once and drew away into a long lead while rounding the far turn to win in the final drive. HONEY BEE, as usual, began slowly, but moved up rapidly on the far turn, then tired in the final drive.

COWL went well, but tired in the stretch and just lasted long enough to outstay PROGRESSIVE.

The latter met with interference while rounding the far turn and finished fast.

Scratched—(7806) Fred Levy, 100; (7771) Brynary, 24; 7774 Union Jack, 104; 7806 Battery, 90.

Overweight—Honey Bee, 1 pound.
